“ Ed was "one of a kind". He was so smart, he had an extensive knowledge of music and sports. When you got to know him you learned this about him. We had so many fun times, listening to music, singing, dancing and betting on who would win the Super Bowl or who would win the Heisman Trophy. He kept a notebook and would write down a name when someone gave him a quarter or a Bobble head. He loved to eat and enjoyed when we cooked something he liked..."Oh, this is good". Ed was always cold and loved "hot ones", we would put his blankets in the dryer to heat them up. Watching sports on TV was his entertainment and his CD's. I will miss him and his quirks and our converstions. I enjoyed my time with him and always knew how appreciative he was of all of us. He made a difference in my life and the life of my family as well. I have been able to feel at peace knowing that the last 4 years of his life he was happy and well taken care of and loved. Rest in Peace Ed, you are in a better place.

“ Ed was a truly special man! He has touched my heart in so Many ways! If you took the time to get to know him, you'd know his love of sports! His love of music! He was so intelligent! All he wanted was to be loved, cared for, and to be respected. I loved and cared for this man, as a nurse, with all my heart and sole!! This special being has changed me in so many ways! ED, I love you more than you'll ever know!! I will cherish our memories together dancing to music, decorating for the holidays, doing arts and crafts together. Rest In Peace my sweet love! Until we meet again!
