“ Janet Maggio and family, my condolences for your loss. As Kim has so eloquently inferred or said, it is God's gain so what a wonderful fate as we step through the curtain of this life to enter the other where sorry and pain are no more and gladness never does fade away! She's with the Master Who's infinitely compassionate to us and give renewable mercies, every day!

My home away from home as a youth and always had the pleasure of seeing your mom from time to time in and around Bloomfield! Mark, thank you for attending my Mom's viewing, which is when I found out about your Mom! My Mom as you know pass on only a few weeks ago on Feb. 2, 2025 as she suffered with Cancer but doesn't suffer any longer! Praise God! Your family felt like an extension of mine for all of those years and your Mom raised a fantastic family! God bless you all and I know there's such a thing as grief that we think we know only to discover that there's this kind upon the passing of our loved ones that can almost take the wind out you! God is good and to Him is entrusted the souls of our Mothers and family for their eternal journey part of life! My prayers are with and for you, that you'll continue to remember your Mom with joy instead of sorrow knowing that to be absent from the body means to be present with the Lord, as Paul does write to us under the inspiration of the Holy Ghost! God be with you as you recall His promises and continue to live the lives you know your mother would desire that you live, in her memory! Words that I too must remember as life is rearranged with the passing of our angels in our lives whose suffering is not even a memory! God bless you!
