“ Rick and I got closer with your mom after Jackson got sick, I'd like to think we helped her through it, All of our dogs had chronic illnesses. Seeing her with Tiger we saw her fall in love again,

On a lighter note, she saw me fall down the outside steps on black ice, which of course is invisible, Luckily my coat was thick enough that I didn't seriously injure myself. She came rushing out of her house to help me. She was in her bathrobe. She got as far as the middle of the street and fell on her butt. We both broke out laughing.

we enjoyed talking about our kids and especially grandkids and shared pictures. After she moved, we didn't see each other as much, but still kept in touch.

She was a great neighbor and a great friend. I miss her dearly.

She was a kind and concerned neighbor. I remember a time that I had catch a plane because of an emergency. She volunteered to drive me to the airport at 5 a.m. in the morning.
