Happy Birthday, Uncle John...I wish I was singing it to you on the phone instead of typing it. I wish I could hear the sarcasm in your voice when you'd say "Thank You, DEBORAH". You were a very funny Uncle John! The funniest was how many times through the years you uninvited me to your funeral when we had a disagreement. Then October 2001 happened and we hugged and you whispered in my ear "Deborah, You are no longer "Uninvited"! We both shed quite a few tears and then laughs. I'll bet you never thought that I would be a part of helping to carry you to your final resting place but I did and I felt so incredibly Honored!...I do hope it made you chuckle though!

The picture is from Jayme's wedding 2014

I asked you to dance with me

You said, "I don't dance, Deborah!

I said," I don't either, Uncle John, Now get up!"...and you did.

I want to thank you for everything you've done for Me, Jayme and Jason and My Whole Family but most of all for calling me to come and work at the flower shop for Valentines Day back in 1980. You're plan worked to get Me and Jay together. YOU are the reason I have Jayme and Jason. I think about that so often. Thank you for being there for them as they were growing up!

I wish I was telling you this face to face so I could see and hear you say "Okay DEBORAH" but I know you are listening...

I Love You, Uncle John

“ Jack was a dear friend of my parents. They worked with him at his flower shop. He handled their funerals when they died. He was such a kind-hearted man, who loved his Great Danes as his children. Nobody deserves such a death. I am so saddened by this.. My love and condolences to his family.
