

Leah Mary Belloma

May 29, 1990 - December 10, 2025

Leah Mary Belloma, a bright light whose energy touched everyone she met, passed away unexpectedly on Wednesday, December 10, 2025, at the age of 35. Born on May 29, 1990 in Pittsburgh, Leah built a rich community across the country through her travels and love of music and was beloved by so, so many friends and family.

She is survived by her cherished son, Atlas West Dalton and his father Shane Dalton; her siblings, Rachel, Anthony, and Nicholas Belloma, and her mother Lynda Sweeney Belloma. Leah is reunited now with her beloved dad, Gary Lee Belloma. She leaves behind an extensive network of friends and family who were profoundly touched by her warmth, loyalty, and infectious smile.

The center of Leah's world was Atlas. Her greatest joy and purpose was being his mother, and her legacy of love, spirit, and strength will live on through him.

“ I am so, so sorry and deeply saddened by the loss of Leah and feel a heaviness in my heart.

There are actually two parts to the memory I'd like to share. The first took place in June of 2001, when I was invited to accompany the Bellomas on their annual vacation to Cape May, Over the next few days in that small cottage, I got to know Leah a little bit and found her to be an incredibly sweet little girl and believe I captured that sweetness in the attached photos. Now, jump forward about 15 years or so. One day I was driving through Shadyside on Shady Avenue and saw Leah walking down the sidewalk. I offered her a ride to where she was headed, and that very same sweetness came out as we chatted during those few minutes in the car together. I just sat there smiling to myself after dropping her off.

“ Leah, Leah, Leah... oh, what can I say.
I still can't believe you're gone. I wish I had grabbed your stubborn butt on Shakedown in SF and given you one last hug.
So many memories keep flooding my mind as I walk down memory lane. Overalls Day will forever be one of the best days of our lives—we were still talking about it all these years later. These pictures are ones you sent me over and over as we reminisced about the days before kids, before responsibilities, when life felt lighter.
Kikis that turned into arguments—but I don't hold onto any resentment. Just love.
Recently, we were both seeking and finding God. It just so happens you're meeting Him a little sooner than me. Put in a good word for me. Say hi to your dad—and the boys.
This isn't goodbye... it's see you later. ☐Krispy

Leah was a troubled soul. I tried to get her sister Rachel to help when Leah was emotionally and financially abusing her father. Rachel has the blood of her father and sister on her hands. Beware before contributing to fund me. This is an evil family.

I really am not trying to be difficult but please do not contribute to Go Fund Me. Leah's death is a tragedy but I have serious doubts Atlas will ever see the money. His father is not a nice man.
