To my brother mark's family and to my sister Virginia and the rest of my family I deeply apologize for an overemotional post saying that I did not like my brother I love my brother I was very wrong saying that I did not like him we had our differences because of views that were very important to both of us that we clashed on. It has been many years that I have not heard or spoken to my brother but I never stopped loving him as my brother and understanding that he has a right to his point of view also even if it became a rift between us I know I cannot reconcile with that now but I hope to do so with him when I Reunite with him and the rest of my departed family in the house of the Lord At the end of my journey on this mortal coil. Again My Deepest apology for saying that I did not like my brother we had our differences strong differences but differences none in the less. Now I know that You can't un ring a bell after the tone has been struck

I ask forgiveness for my emotional outburst.

I also am Also dealing with the untimely death of my daughter's fiancé I was at the hospital Monday morning with my daughter when her beloved soul mate Chris died of sudden Cardiac arrest. He was a good man and was great for my daughter they were deeply in love And moving forward with plans to marry. Tis a heavy blow to my heart and soul. In Just a handful of hours apart My daughter had lost an uncle and her soulmate

I will shoulder this loss the rest of my days
