“ Bob and I spent a lot of time together while we were growing up, every weekend at the farm with his dad papa Joe. I remember so many times we got into trouble getting tractor or dump truck stuck in the mud in the middle of a field and Joe would have a knip shit but never stayed mad very long. We would work long and hard putting in hay or silage or cleaning out the barn. The best was barn swallow baseball though, sounds mean and probably was but for a couple of kids back then oh well. I remember all the nights we slept out and all the gardens we raised, Mike, Denny, Bob and myself. I remember your mom Shirley William's Fluhr like yesterday. Thank you my friend and your family for a lifetime of memories in just a short time of my life. The stories that we made together I'll cherish forever.
