“ You know sometimes words just are not enough to say when people lose a loved one. I have had great times and sometimes even bad times with Tommy but in my life he will be greatly missed.i'll miss the days when we laughed and joked with one another. ill miss the days when he would come to my house and share a meal. Tommy was not only my friend but he was my brother. I am blessed by his family to share his memories. Yeah sometimes we would fight and after that we would be friends again he was always there for me and his sister.. She is having a hard time believing that he is gone, but like family does is try to make the best memories last forever and his memories will last a lifetime in our hearts..

“ God blessed me when he gave me my two best friends my brother and my sister. My oldest friend is gone now and this planet will never be right again for me. We never did get to dance to "rebel", I will look forward to the day that we meet again and we can dance and you can give me back the piece of my heart and soul that you took with you when you left me. Love your sister chug
